Nov 6 1991

Hello Caribbean Prince! We both had a good feeling going aboard. Had a cabin on the same side of the top deck but near the stern 58A instead of the bow 50A. All the passengers look unfamiliarly familiar - but 2 deck hands and one stewardess are the same. Also the captain was last trips first mate! Cold cloudy day (in the 40's) but a brighter day than when we set off for St Laurence. Watched the embarkation from the top deck - took 2 or 3 measly pictures of ~~Narragansett~~ Warren River* - did not stay too long as it is cold - guess I won't be spending as much time on deck this trip!

(*airplane pictures - 2 of Delaware Bay maybe one of Chesapeake?)

Nov 7 44°F

Woke at 6 am going under bridges - watched Brooklyn Bridge from underneath - beautiful. Out on deck (with camera) by ~~the~~ ferry slip. Sun came up over NY harbor Verrazano bridge - powerful Good hearty breakfast - and then I slept all morning. (After seeing film on ICW) on top deck at 8 pm to watch passage through Cape May Canal - narrow in places - 2½ feet on either side - good passage much talking + laughing + cheers. I saw the Cape May light near end - bright light + 3 lesser (all white) woke up at 2 am when we entered C+D - red lights at intervals all along portside smooth ride. Saw the bridge at St. George's loomed large invisible with 2 red lights high up could vaguely see its form after we passed

Nov 8 Friday

54°F (raw) up at 7 + took a shower - Joe walked

8:30 am arrive in Baltimore

Spent the morning at the Aquarium went through the same part as I had before - up thru the main exhibit to RF and down the spiral through the tank (we are docked right behind the tank) made it back to the boat just in time for lunch.

Little rest and then got a taxi to the Baltimore Museum of Art To see the Monet show from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts - wonderful show - and crowded. ~~on~~ On the way out we looked at Tessera from floors in the city of Antioch + its suburb, Daphne!

[At lunchtime I took 4 pictures of the inner harbor area]

Guess I'll miss the Francis Scott Key bridge as we're sailing after dark watched the movie after dinner - totally missed the departure from Baltimore

Nov 9 Saturday - Following sea with 3-5 waves

A rolly night - but not too bad. At 2 the sky was grey, the sea was grey, white flecks of foam + clouds - beautiful monochrome watched the Monet film went out on deck to enjoy the bad weather - it was very exciting. tried for some dramatic pictures but finally was asked to come in as the boat was about to turn 90° with the waves coming abeam (?) it was some ride! Spent the worst of it in the cabin. arrived Norfolk about noon. After lunch I went on a 2 hour tour of the worlds largest naval base - very interesting After dinner Joe + I took a walk around the docks and then threw the Waterside Mall. I watched "the Search for Red October" Raining most of the day —

Nov 10 Sunday Rain

Woke at 5 and we're still tied up in Norfolk - but the engines started at 530 - we were off in the pouring down rain at 6 - there were 3 bridges + one lock that were on timed schedules so we had to wait a little. Spent the AM cruising through the Chesapeake + Albemarle canal - sand banks, mixed hardwoods + pine is this part of dismal swamp? Beautiful anyway - even without sun. Fall colors contrasty with bright green pine - set off by black stumps + roots on the sand took 5-6 pictures

After lunch it cleared off + the sun came out for awhile. ~~Escaped~~ People migrated to the top deck

After lunch entered the Waccamaw River cypress trees, red orange fall trees (with knees) no birds took many pictures End of Roll 3

arrive Georgetown at 3 30 pm pictures: paper factory steel mill walked around several blocks to see historic houses - beautiful - took 4 or 5 pictures

November 14 thursday clear sunny 55°

Joe got up to see sunrise and I took a shower.

Spent the entire morning on the top deck - marshland for miles & miles. Closer to Charleston we begin to see Hugo damage - docks, stripped oaks arrive in Charleston at 12:15

Left boat a little after one - met 2 other couples and went off to find a buggy ride. Good ride - about an hour - around historic district - wonderful - took more pictures. After went thru market - bought 2 basket trivets ($10 each) and bean soup mix for yankee swap. Then we went back to historic district (on foot) and toured Nathaniel Russell house. Very interesting, but my knees & hips were screaming -

took many pictures

Land to Smokies

November 15 Friday

left Charleston at 5am

Sunny clear 62°F

Watched a video "Birds of Sanibel" after breakfast - Spent the rest of the am on the top deck - these "coastal lowlands" consist of many streams meandering out of the Piedmont - many many - the ICW follows these rivers 5-10 miles, then cuts across the fabric of the landscape by dredged channel until another river is encountered. There are acres & acres of wetland as a result ----- {took several pictures used up roll 4}

After lunch rested, read + back to the top deck. Arrive Savannah at 4:30 with 3 other people had a short walking tour (1 hr.) of Savannah - went to 4 parks - developed an admiration of Oglethorpe & his planned city. The layout is wonderful, the signs are informative and numerous - but there is rather a run down look to the city -

{Begin Roll 5}

November 16 Saturday 60° and foggy left Savannah at 5 - but had to fool around about ½ hr as it was too foggy to go full ~~thru~~ steam ahead saw the ~~rest~~ end of the "Birds of Sanibel" film and then spent the rest of the am on top deck.

Pictures 5 or 6? of the golden marsh

Arrived at St Simon at 5 just in time for happy hour and dinner

Card to Colberts

Several pictures lighthouse, sunset went into town in the evening - everything closed so we did laundry

Nov 17 Sunday

woke up again at 5:15 - Engines rumbley + roary - we had grounded on a sand bar at South End of Jekyll Is.

we were stuck for sure as the tide was going out. Nothing to do but wait for it to come back in -

Interesting day as everyone wandered about, read, talked, listened to my dates from captain and (took too many pix tide rose + we floated free at 3:15 Coast Guard standing by

Nov 18 ~~Sunday~~ Monday

travelled all night and arrived at Titusville at noon

Went on a bus Tour of Kennedy Space Center - long but interesting saw the Space Shuttle on pad for launch Tomorrow night. Was impressed by the magnitude of everything.

Nov 20 Weds -

A lot of goodbyes - so many people made a point of saying goodbye.

Everyone was gone by 9:30 - we in a van with the Seattle couple & the Sarasota couple to Budget Rent a Car

Drove out of there & right down 95 as though we knew what we were doing! We were too early to go To Martha's so we stopped at a mall (Pompano Square) for lunch & to look around. I bought a new 10X lens at Hoffritz. Still too early so we drove to the beach - violated the wind surfers & marvelled at being on the beach. By the way we crossed to ICW to get there

Nov 21 Thurs.

Left Marilla about 9:30 and made our way west + south to the Tamiami Trail Rt 41 Interesting drive - crowding the city but even so there was plenty of traffic got to NPS Shark River just before noon - and in time for tram ride thru everglades - 2 hours - wonderful! So beautiful in many ways and we had an excellent guide, learned alot. Had lunch at Miccosuke restaurant - bought a couple of things at ~~a~~ gift shop which was pretty crummy, service poor. Continued on Rt 41 until near Naples Wellesley Inn.

Took 15 pictures, Roll #6

Nov 22 Fri

Had a ?? breakfast and took off for Corkscrew swamp which we found about 11 a.m. Excellent self guided tour of Corkscrew Took about 3½ hrs. Fabulous place but we both got tired near the end. Split a coke for lunch and then drove on, finally arriving Ramada Inn ~~at~~ in Sanibel at 5:30

End of Roll #6

Nov 23 Saturday

Pouring down rain !!!
Had breakfast in our cozy place - went shopping at Reversible Place bought Katie a christmas present but not much else. Nice Shopping Center went to Tabutan Gardens for lunch at

Pick up rental car and drive South not too bad as far as traffic goes saw a lot of hurricane damaged trees Stayed on RI instead of turning off on Card Sound road - took much longer
To get to Ocean Reef Club than it should have.
Dan + Betty Coughnour picked us up + took us into Town to a spaghetti House for dinner. Dan Jr + friend Ildako plus 4 children were there! Had a good time

Tuesday - Had a royal tour of Ocean Reef Club riding with the Coughnours on their golf cart! Quite an impressive place - and large. Beautiful grounds, plants + flowers everywhere - imagine there is a large full time gardening staff.
Lunch at one of the golf course's pro shops.
Back to our own palace we explored a little, went out to the furthest point + then rested a bit. The Coughnours plus Bill + Betty Siebenthaler came to our place for a drink (they wanted to see it) then we all went to dinner in one of the resorts 5 restaurants - Very nice - Joe + I had breakfast in another both morning - also very nice. Altogether a very elegant place and I enjoyed being there -

Goodbye Ocean Reef Club - headed into Key Largo + went to John Pennekamp State Park. Although it was rainy + windy we went on the glass bottom boat trip - 2½ hours - ½ hour of which was over the reef. wonderful!
Spent the rest of the day driving south on route #1. Stopped at a Wendy's for lunch, drove around a few streets on Pine Key (?) looking for key deer, stopped at a couple of boat ramps + still got to key West before dark. Blue Lagoon Motel - terrible (but we stayed there anyway) Interesty dining room + nice dinner —

thursday

TOOK off early looking for a breakfast place got us all the way into beautiful downtown Key West - found a parking place (4 quarters for 2 hours) had breakfast - 4 more quarters + we went on the Conch Train - a grand 1½ hr tour of the entire city (not a very big place!) went + found our B+B, settled in, and went back downtown to the aquarium - nice 30's building built by WPA. Good exhibits - many outdoors - Back to Popular house b+b, rest + clean up + out again to Pepe's for dinner —

Friday April 1 cards: Cooper Alice + Bobby nice breakfast amidst the orchids and other guests - Packed up, left about 11am drove down to the Key West Hand printed Fashions were too late for the tour (caught the tail end of it) but got carried away with shopping - (I spent $170!)

Lunch in a deli nearby then drove to the ~~light house~~ pier and there was {Carribean Prince} dwarfed among the large luxury cruise boats!

Left our baggage

Drove to lighthouse - climbed 90 steps then drove to Hertz rental return

Hertz man took us back to boat

Oh what fun - how familiar!

Settled in, had dinner - there are but 27 of us - but it was comfortable + happy to be back on board theresa is here but no other Canadian crew also watched LA RUE cruise ship take off!

End of Roll 2

watched the famous Key West - sunset - compares well with many I've seen!

Saturday April 2

Left Key West dock after breakfast - went East on the southside (ocean side) of the keys. Took several pictures incl. KW lighthouse. Beautiful area — arrived Marathon after lunch went on the Dolphin Research Center tour - more show than Tell. Even so it was interesting + the Dolphins performed very well.

Marathon

Roll 3 - Took several pictures (1-11)

good shower when I got back + then wore my new dress for the Captains dinner. Joe wore his new jacket - of course we both looked wonderful!

Spent most of the evening on top deck Trying out Paul's computer sky charts - Found everything - large expanse of sky - medium bright -

Sunday April 3 Happy Easter!

left Marathon before breakfast - passed under 7 mile bridge & headed due north. Fantastically clear, ~~blue~~ blue, sharp horizon all the way around - 360° caught some rays and saw one sea Turtle and 6 or 8 dolphins - pictures:

1- clouds over Cape Sable
2- endless sea, endless sky

After lunch we arrived at Cape Sable & cruised N 3 miles off shore to Shark River - Prince went slowly up the river, through the mangroves, saw several osprey, nests, Royal Terns - Hot on top deck, but still best place from which to view the world! pictures

Anchored at the mouth of the River for the night 25° 22 N 81° 08 W

After good roast lamb dinner went topside again to watch sunset in this beautiful remote place with no one around - more pictures - missed the captain's star talk but went out after the moon to a glorious & brilliant sky

Card: Coughrom

Monday April 4

Left Shark River at 10 am - Spent the morning making our way to Marco Island. Felt pretty lazy all morning and did little. made rolled paper beads after lunch rote Teresa's arts & crafts + then went on Trolley Tour of the Island - too long + pretty boring. most everyone agreed they felt good that they did not live here!
Watched movie "the Fugitive" with Harrison Ford in it.

Left at 5:30 am in order to stop at Sanibel for a walk on the beach! Had to walk in water up to our knees so I wore Joe's shorts - it was fun walking on the sand - didn't find any spectacular shells, but enjoyed it. Spent most of the day on the deck watching our progress up ICW - thru Venice and our approach to Sarasota

Several of waterway near Gasparilla arrived Sarasota about 5pm

Joe + I took a long walk thru the dock + a little bay side park -

Thursday 7 April Sarasota

did not take morning tour of the city - rather walked by myself to the Marie Selby Botanical gardens (Joe was bathing etc) Enjoyed the walk (while worrying about whether I could make it!) Enjoyed the gardens + enjoyed walking back took quite a few pictures — mostly on the way back as it was rather dark in the jungle parts of the garden.

went on tour in the pm - To the Ringling museum of art we both agreed it was well worth seeing twice!! Bought a book for Koko + several cards the museum has some great paintings P.P. Rubens (Baroque) for one. Did not go to Ringling house this time my feet were VERY tired.

left Sarasota at 4 got to Tampa bridge at dinner time - took several pictures - started across Gulf of Mexico - water became very rough. I got sick about 8.30 + went to bed soon thereafter

Friday 8 April - at Sea arrive at Carrabelle at 4

VERY BOUNCY NIGHT Slept intermittently did not make breakfast - was not alone - Joe said 19 people only were at breakfast -

Slept most of morning. took shower + showered up for lunch - chicken soup!

cards: Koko cases

Carrabelle Fla 29°50 + 84°40'

Spent some time trying for a bow landing on Dog Island - too shallow docked at 6:30

By suppertime I felt 100% again Joe + I walked about after - Big marina, Small town -

Monday 11 April

Arrive Pensacola around noon beautiful trip between mainland and Santa Rosa Island
Spent most of the am topside

After lunch Joe went on tour of Pensacola historic area & I did laundry at Marina. Joe returned took the laundry back to boat & then met me in the historic area of town - we walked around, I took a few pictures - charming area. Everyone seems to be impressed by Pensacola -

In the evening we played Yankee Swap -

Tuesday 12 April Mobile

can't Jim + Judy

Left at 5am - trip through another "ditch" and then up Mobile Bay - a large body of water - ships, oil drill platforms fishing boats + hundreds of birds - gulls + pelicans mostly.

Began Roll 6

Tour of Mobile in pm very good - Beautiful old district, colorful frame houses, with lovely white trim 1830's - 50's Toured one house, and old Catholic cathedral, and the city museum could not take many pictures as we were either ① on the bus or it was ② too cloudy - actually too dark under the many live oaks

During happy hour I had a conversation with the captain + discovered he knew Jim + Judy very well!

card: Jean + Judy

Wednesday 13 April

Left Mobile very early (3am?) skirted along ICW until we reached Gulfport - adjacent to Biloxi on the west - huge attractive marina lots of sailboats. And casinos - welcome to Mississippi! in a boat 'Copa' and along shore to + including Biloxi.

Did not take the 4hr $35 tour (which everyone said was very good afterwards) instead we walked over to town - pretty far - looking for shops + not many. Found drugstore got 1 more film walked around, came back.

watched "South Pacific" in PM with Fay + Norman, Ed + Charlie. Free 1958 with Mitzi Gaynor -

thursday 14 April

Another early departure 4am

Spent most of am on deck. Last day nostalgia

Followed ICW to Boyne Lake, up channel to locks and in to Mississippi just downstream from New Orleans. Turned out to be pretty exciting – had to wait an hour for our place in line. Then the left bridge didn't open so we took down our mast! Locks lifted us 12 ft to the River from the Gulf —
